As we come to an end of honoring Latino cultures and contributions, Dual Language Club is highlighting Latino Culture. Latino culture is known for vibrant festivals and celebrations like Dia de los Muertos and quinceaneras. Dia de los Muertos goes back to the Aztecs who had an entire month dedicated to the dead over 2,000 years ago. Festivities were presided over by the goddess Mictecacihuatl. The annual rite features skeletons, altars and other trappings of death but the ancient holiday celebrates life in its embrace of death. After colonization, it was moved by Spanish priests so that it coincided with the Christian holiday of All Hallows Eve "Dia de Todos Santos". The result is that Mexicans now celebrate the Day of the Dead during the first two days of November. S.V.H.S.'s Dual Language classes will be celebrating Day of the Dead on Friday, November 1st. Come and enjoy music, food and altars.
